Thank You Brett. I see rumors about Al...not asking you to comment, but if something happens I would obviously jump at any chance to be on his staff on any capacity. I know I can coach with anyone, I know it.

Job Opportunity

Mike McQueary <mcqueary09@gmail.com> Sat, Jan 5, 2013 at 7:24 PM
To: Pat.Flaherty@giants.nfl.net

Pat:

I hope this note finds you and your family doing well. I know it was a long tough season for the Giants and I am sure you are unsatisfied with the result, better luck next year.

Coach, obviously you know the circumstances in which I write to you. Indeed it has been a bit of an odd situation for me over the last year and a half. I can tell you I tried to do the right things here at Penn State, I am ready to get back to work doing what I love and frankly I am a very good, hard working coach.

I simply ask that if you hear of any kind of opportunity, any kind of job within the NFL, that you please keep me in mind or pass along my name. I would jump on the road in 5 minutes and be anywhere to see anyone that was willing to give me a shot. It was not long ago we talked at one of our pro days at PSU about coaching in the NFL. If there is anything within the Giants operation, I would jump at the chance.

I have enclosed my resume. Please feel free to contact me at any time. Pat, I appreciate any help you can give very much. Best of luck to you and the New York Giants.

Mike McQueary

PS Dick Anderson can give you great insight to me as a person and as a coach.

DUKE WR JOB / NO RESPONSE

WR Assistant Coach

Mike McQueary <mcqueary09@gmail.com> Mon, Jan 28, 2013 at 9:05 PM
To: dukefootball@duaa.duke.edu

Coach Cutcliffe:

I am writing to express my extreme interest in becoming your next wide receiver coach at Duke University. I have attached my resume and as you can see am very qualified to not only do the job, but to be an asset to your program.

What you may not know and what my resume will not say is my family and I have a very long history with Duke University.

I was born in Durham and lived there till I moved here to State College at the age of 7. Both my parents worked at Duke for 18 yrs. As a little boy I used to watch coach Red Wilson's teams practice football and near Wallace Wade Stadium. My father was one of the original members of the "Iron Dukes" and spent many Saturdays taking in and supporting Duke Football.

I have met you briefly while you were coaching at Tennessee and we played you in the outback bowl in January of 2007. Coach, I promise hard work and great effort, along with extensive football knowledge and natural coaching instincts. On top of that, great experience as recruiting coordinator and huge contact base for recruiting potential student athletes, especially in the Northeast.

Coach, I hope you give me serious consideration and understand the urgency in which I write to you. I look forward to hearing back from you.

Sincerely

Mike McQueary

Brett this is what I have sent to Duke so far...there is a lot of background for me (my family) and Duke...so far it is helping a little.

If PSU would use their damn brains, they would help me a bit and make me go away for a small, small price.

So frustrating.

Barj Najarian
New England Patriots

Dear Berj,

A winning attitude is everything! Not only do I have the attitude, I possess the aptitude to help lead the New England Patriots to victory. Twenty years of practical and coaching experience in college football have prepared me to contribute as effective member of the New England Patriots staff. I pride myself in having a proven record of building, motivating, and leading players to realize their personal bests and to experience consistent team achievements. This is the kind of success I will bring to the Patriots as a staff member.

In addition to my extensive football knowledge, my background in recruitment and personal interest in maintaining an active knowledge of up and coming players gives me a unique value that others may lack. I have worked repeatedly with players who were recruited and signed to play at the collegiate level so come well equipped with the background needed to secure, evaluate and develop players coming into, and already in the National Football League.

I am ready to transfer my knowledge of coaching and team development to the next level and believe that my strengths align perfectly with your football organization. I would welcome the opportunity to meet with you to discuss my qualifications more in depth. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Michael J. McQueary

Hi Mike. I am on a flight back from California after a few much needed days away. And we even managed to skip a historic snowstorm while we were at it. I'm sorry we have not been able to connect but that is about to change. I will be back in the office tomorrow, where I will be until heading to the Combine. I think our coaching staff is set for the moment but I think there could possibly be some movement in scouting later in the spring.

In the meantime, I look forward to catching up with you by phone and get personally acquainted to begin with. I look forward to doing that very soon.

Hey Mike. Thanks for checking back in. Yeah, we added a couple of Nittany Lions and I'm sure the pipeline is only beginning!

While I know the coaching staff is set, I appreciate you keeping your name in the mix here for scouting opportunities, although I do think they have their sights on a couple of candidates. I'm sorry I haven't been able to get you in for a look to this point.

Hi Berj:

I am just checking in and letting you know I am ready to do anything the Patriots organization asks.

I know you said that possibly after the draft something may happen. I am ready and willing to do ANYTHING.

Let me know if there is anything you need from me.

PS I saw you ended up signing Matt Stankievitch as an unrestricted free agent...I recruited him and know him well...great, smart kid that will die for you.

Just a quick note to one say best of luck this year and I will be pulling for the Pats. I know lately maybe it has been a bit tough but I am sure all of you are looking forward to training camp and getting the season started.

Second, wanted to let you know that if the organization is looking for a last minute guy, or something happens and you find yourself needing someone to even sort mail, I will be there in an instant.

It's a little tough to say, because he's a bit older than someone who I think we would typically hire who is that old or rather who doesn't have that much recent work experience in a related field.

With that said, I wouldn't say no or that it is impossible. Would you want to look at our job page and let me know if he sees something for him? What part of the country?

The guy who I sent it to named Coalter Powers. I'm not sure if he'll call you directly without contacting me first. If so, I wanted to give you a little background on the company:

Founded in 1948, Robert Half International pioneered the concept of professional staffing services. In March 2012, Robert Half ranked first in the staffing industry on FORTUNE magazine's "World's Most Admired Companies" list. The company is traded on the New York Stock Exchange (symbol: RHI) and is a member of the S&P 500 index.

There are several divisions but, I sent your background to the guy that heads the division I work in (the Boston equivalent to my boss), Robert Half Finance and Accounting, which focuses on solely full-time recruitment and placement of finance and accounting professionals. It is notorious as the best division within the company to work for.

Hi Mike!!

Hope you are having a good day. Just checking in, to see how your meeting with Dave Harding went on Monday. He had great things to say about you! I also wanted to check in to see how you were feeling about the whole process, the office in NYC, or Northwestern Mutual as a whole. Feel free to give me a call anytime this week to chat, I do not want to bother you so you have plenty of time to think! If you have any questions, I am here!

Have a good afternoon,

Good Morning Mike,

Good to hear from you. Great! I am so excited that you would like to pursue the opportunity. Dave Harding loved you, and thinks you would do amazing in this business, wherever you choose to go.

About location, this is your career, and the next step should be where you want to end up. If Manhattan isn't what you want, then that's fine with me. The way the other offices would work now, is that I would call each of them and tell them what we have done so far and pass the information to them for their recruiter to call you and set up steps with you.

It is a different managing partner, management, and recruiting staff so they would work with you throughout the rest of the process in their office. If you would like me to do that today, I would be more than happy.

I would also be more than willing to help you with the rest of the process, by answering any questions you have or walking you through the process. Let me know what you think. Feel free to call me today or tomorrow to talk things through if you need to. Otherwise, I will look for your email.

If I don't hear from you, have a very happy Thanksgiving.

Hi Kelsey:

I wanted to take some time to give it some thought . I am interested and would very much like to pursue things with the company.

I think the Boston office or the DC office would be best for me, if it has to be Manhattan, then so be it.

Let me know what to do and let's talk soon.

After the new head coach is hired, all assistant coaches will be hired at his discretion. Open positions will be advertised on JMU's Joblink website and of necessity, all applications will be submitted electronically by each interested person. Coaching Position

To: dcutcliffe@duaa.duke.edu

Coach Cutcliffe:

I met you briefly at the Outback Bowl while I was on staff at Penn State. I am in search of a coaching position. Enclosed is my resume, I have significant recruiting contacts in the northeast and also have demonstrated to be an outstanding coach. I can coach any position on Offense and feel most comfortable at QB or WR.

Coach, I need an opportunity...I have very very strong ties to Duke University and the Durham area. Please feel free to contact me, I would jump at any opportunity you could offer.

Mike McQueary

Dear Coach O'Brien: 1/2/14

While I am sure you are familiar with my name, we have never met or spoken. I have followed your coaching career at PSU and admittedly wish I could have had the opportunity to work for you in some capacity, but realize under the circumstances the university would not entertain that possibility.

Included for your review is my resume. I have intentionally chosen coaching as a career and feel my playing career, coaching experience, and intangibles such as commitment, dedication and perhaps most notable my work ethic makes me an invaluable asset to any coaching staff.

I have not been able to obtain a coaching position over the last two years for reasons I am sure you know but would appreciate any opportunity to speak with you about a position in the Texans' organization. Working for you would be a welcome learning experience as well as provide me with an opportunity to demonstrate my value as a coach.

Coach, I fully realize you are under a tight schedule with a full plate to deal with, but would really appreciate an opportunity to meet with you or speak on the telephone. I am available and ready for any position at any time. Feel free to reach me on my cell phone at 814 548 6749.

Best Regards,

I agree 100%. however, Al has not taken, offered or even been contacted directly by PSU. As you know, the press distorts so many things. If it would happen, which honestly I have no idea it will considering the improved situation at UM I will certainly discuss with him. Trust you are doing well. I will touch base if anything develops.

Good Morning Brett:

Brett, Please put my name in with Al.

I fee there is no good and proper reason why I can not coach at PSU. I did the right thing, handled it appropriately, etc. For minor consideration I would be more than willing, and in fact jump at the chance to join Al's staff.

From 2000 to 2004 PSU had 4 out of 5 losing seasons and the wide receivers were abysmal. I joined the staff, and using in large part what I learned from Al, we built that program back up.

I have produced NFL players, recruited top players. The top two players on this years PSU team were both evaluated and recruited by me, Allen Robinson and John Urshel.

No one knows the systems at PSU, what it takes to recruit there, the coaches in PA better than me. I will work like a dog, and be a great asset for Al.

Brett, again, if you could please pass this e-mail on to Al, and or give me his direct contact info. it would be much appreciated.

To you I am just some shmo who was involved in a bad thing and you really have no reason to help me. I want to let you know again, in an extremely difficult situation for many reasons, I did the right thing and I thank you very much for trying to help.

I have sent things to Coach Cutcliffe, I have not heard back in any way. I have not reached out to the AD. Sometimes coaches get a little irritated if they feel you have tried to go over their head and on to a higher level.

I think you have a couple good ideas/points in your e-mail. It would be appropriate, helpful if you at least mentioned me to the AD and all of our background as a family. I think your lawyer friend is dead on, and I appreciate his insight. I think a trustee route is also a good thing...no an overbearing type of thing, just a name and some background.

Again, I am careful with what I say and how I do things for many many reasons. Any type of opportunity in person would be a great help.

Thank you Paul.

appearance does not help: he is quickly remembered as the guy that did not call the cops.

I would send it to K White. I know Kennedy, but have not seen him in years, don't know if he would do anything without consulting White. My guess is that White will want to talk it over with Cut. I also imagine that if the media sees him interviewing at Duke it is an instant story, perhaps not a positive one. If he signs on at Duke, there will be media attention.

I think I might phrase it as wanting some career advice, etc. White is a very well connected guy, may be flattered by that characterization.

The story I see in the follow up reports that I read after Googling him, are basically positive. Don't know how accurate. A tough situation for the guy.

My guess is he will get a good settlement out of PSU. He is scape-goated when those above him did nothing. Assuming the evidence holds together.

Should write a book.'

And , then, after reviewing your resume -

'Appears solid. Cut may know the guy.'

To: Mike McQueary <mcqueary09@gmail.com>

Mike,

A friend of mine within the network of guys I know who root perhaps more for Duke Football than Duke Basketball suggested that you might reach out to Biff Poggi at the Gilman School in Baltimore. Biff has a large staff there, but also he has contacts among all the major college programs in the East, and really elsewhere. Biff played Football at Pitt, but then graduated from Duke. His wife graduated from Duke, as well. A son, Sam Poggi, was on Football scholarship at Duke.

I did not go to Gilman, of course, but have friends who either went there or whose kids went there. So, I do not have an in there, per se. If you would like someone else to intro your resume, I could ask one of these guys if they would forward it along. They would see I would think as a load of crap the stigma which challeges you in your search.

Dick Biddle is a Duke guy, former Duke player, Head Coach for years at Colgate. As you know, Colgate, Bucknell, Lehigh, Lafayette, Colgate and Holy Cross now offer Football scholarships and have upped their games in Football. They now offer 60 scholarships or more in order to be counting games (toward bowl eligibility) when playing D-1A teams. I would think your recruiting experience would be of interest to these schools.

Another idea I had is that you might reach out to Mike Pressler. He is Head Lacrosse Coach at Bryant in Rhode Island. They also field a FCS Football team. He might be receptive to your predicament, having himself suffered a stigma, unfairly so, due to false accusations in the Duke Lax Hoax. The AD at Bryant hired him anyway, and the school is quite glad they did.

A lot of coaching changes, movements going on right now. Maybe some oppotunities out there for you.

Let me know if you would like help forwarding inquiries to Gilman, Colgate or Bryant. And, keep at it. Don't let the bastards get you down.

Best regards,

Paul W.

Mike,

I heard back from Kevin. And, by way of background, I think the more you ask, inquire of people, the greater the odds are you will find someone receptive, which then can lead to the kind of opportunity you are seeking.

Kevin's response was that he thought you would need to re-set with someone or place within coaching where you have a long-standing relationship.

He also suggested that another approach might be to re-boot you career and pursue something else.

My response to Kevin was that part of the challenge for you at this point was that your long-standing contacts in coaching were among Penn State staff (current and past), as well as within the Penn State Football alumni network. I also suggested to Kevin that you might pursue something in the NFL, really any position, or even volunteer until the legal matters are resolved.

Certainly, when I forwarded your resume to Kevin I noted that you had a solid background as a coach and recruiter and that your contacts in the Northeast and Middle Atlantic would be valuable. I emphasized your father's ties to Duke and your family being from Durham. And, my contact was obviously intended to promote you for a position in coaching within a network Kevin or even Cutcliffe were part of.

Kevin's reaction is one person's opinion at one point in time. It occured to me that he may know Curley. Kevin has been an AD for quite a while. As you are a material witness in the upcoming trials, don't know if that had anything to do with Kevin's response.

Personally, it is my impression that now would be a good time for you to pound on as many doors as you can. Enough time has passed, yet not too much time for you to be too removed from coaching. NFL teams, as you know, employ a number of scouts, and the senior days will be coming up.

I would not rule out Duke, either. But, at this point Kevin did not seem warm to become involved in your search. Cutcliffe is a guy who values opinions from folks he knows. If any among your contacts is friends with or knows Cutcliffe, you might reach out to them in a networking sense.

I understand you may have litigation pending with Penn State. But, I would not let that deter you in really going after any and all leads. It would be a nice problem to have, that you landed a job which mitigated your damages in terms of the stigma and wrongfullness of your separation from Penn State.

I might add that in this, any prior communications, or in any further communications, I will treat my advice and any responses by you as confidential, would not turn over anything to media or otherwise post anything in that regard on the net. While not engaged by you as an attorney, you have asked me for advice and help and as such these communications shall be confidential within the attorney client privilege. I am an active attorney in Florida and currently an inactive member of the Bar in PA and MA.

Mike, I see it as a positive that Kevin White took the time to provide me with a thoughtful response. This is part of the process fo chipping away at the ice in landing another opportunity.

So keep at it, and I will follow up with you on any developments among contacts on my end.

Best regards,

Paul W.

OK, Mike,

I will get something off to White today, within the lines we have discussed. I will emphasize that you would like to come down and visit in person, and that you and your family would be very grateful for the consideration.

Have you contacted Doug Marrone with the Bills? I do not have any insight or connection there, but my sense is that as a HC just out of college who worked his way up through coaching at a number of schools, that Syracuse played Penn State when you were on staff there, he might respond to an inquiry and offer some suggestions. He also is in contact with Cutcliffe.

So, I will write White on your behalf today, and you might, if you have not already, call Cutcliffe to see if he would pick up the phone and speak with you.

I think Cutcliffe may be up in Maryland today, based on a thead on the Duke scout board, "Cucliffe Visting With Pascal."

Regarding sending something to a Trustee, let me see first what response I get from White. And, I can review that with you.

Keep after it. Something good will come out of your efforts.

Regards,

Paul W.

Paul:

This will be a bit longer e-mail so I apologize before hand. Also, you have been extremely nice and helpful and I am very, very grateful. To you I am just some shmo who was involved in a bad thing and you really have no reason to help me. I want to let you know again, in an extremely difficult situation for many reasons, I did the right thing and I thank you very much for trying to help.

I have sent things to Coach Cutcliffe, I have not heard back in any way. I have not reached out to the AD. Sometimes coaches get a little irritated if they feel you have tried to go over their head and on to a higher level.

I think you have a couple good ideas/points in your e-mail. It would be appropriate, helpful if you at least mentioned me to the AD and all of our background as a family. I think your lawyer friend is dead on, and I appreciate his insight. I think a trustee route is also a good thing...no an overbearing type of thing, just a name and some background.

Again, I am careful with what I say and how I do things for many many reasons. Any type of opportunity in person would be a great help.

Thank you Paul.

I shared your situation in confidence with an attorney friend of mine who is also a Duke athletics alum, was a varsity athlete at Duke when I was there and maintains status as a booster, bright guy. Really to get his input because he also knows, has met the AD, Coach K, Cutcliffe, etc. His responses to an informal inquiry - before seeing your resume,

'Got the father's bio, not the kids.

My guess is that he is radioactive. While in reading some stuff in response to your email, it seems he was forthright in his testimony and did a fair amount about the issue, but he is lambasted for not doing more, in my mind unfairly so. His distinctive appearance does not help: he is quickly remembered as the guy that did not call the cops.

I would send it to K White. I know Kennedy, but have not seen him in years, don't know if he would do anything without consulting White. My guess is that White will want to talk it over with Cut. I also imagine that if the media sees him interviewing at Duke it is an instant story, perhaps not a positive one. If he signs on at Duke, there will be media attention.

I think I might phrase it as wanting some career advice, etc. White is a very well connected guy, may be flattered by that characterization.

The story I see in the follow up reports that I read after Googling him, are basically positive. Don't know how accurate. A tough situation for the guy.

My guess is he will get a good settlement out of PSU. He is scape-goated when those above him did nothing. Assuming the evidence holds together.

Should write a book.'

And , then, after reviewing your resume -

'Appears solid. Cut may know the guy.'

Mike,

Let me know if you would like me to forward anything to Kevin White on your behalf, or even to a Trustee.

Regards,

Paul W.

I was referred by a friend of mine to you about an open sales position within the Comcast orgnization.

I am very interested in hearing more and applying for the aforementioned position and talking to, hopefully in person, about it.

While I do not have business sales experience, you will see that I was in charge and directed a very highly competitive and large national recruiting department for a major college football program. I don't need to tell you that recruiting, in large part is nothing but sales.

I am willing to relocate, learn and work endless hours in order to be successful and help Comcast achieve its goals.

Please let me know what I can do to pursue this opportunity and setup an interview.

Mike McQueary

PS...My resume is a "Coaching Resume", but you will see my experience in recruiting. Obviously, I would love a chance to talk further about what I feel are my credentials and positive attributes for the job.

Please consider as you go through the off season.

Mike,

Life is about balancing competing interests and considerations.

Treat your daugther to a little better weather and the Spring game at Wallace Wade Stadium?

Is she old enough to make the trip?

I don't know what else you have in the fire. Baring something imminent, if you want to get back in the game, why not? In the long run, it will be more important to you and your family that you are pursuing a rewarding career. In that sense, making the trip can be about putting your daughter's interests first.

Best regards,

I believe the Duke Spring game is this Saturday, March 1st. If you can, take a couple of days off of work and drive down to Durham with Mike, maybe leave early on Thursday morning. Your dad maybe could go with the two of you. Cutcliffe and AD Kevin White one would think would be in town, because of the Spring game being on Saturday. I'd have to think one or more of the coaches would make time to talk with Mike. Jim Knowles the DC is a PA guy.

Heck, if nothing else, get a few days out of the cold in State College and enjoy some spring time weather in Durham.

As I mentioned to Mike, Cutcliffe knows everybody. So does Knowles. Montgomery worked for the Steelers. If you can do anthing for the Steelers, wash dishes, whatever :-) , you have an in with Pitt. They practice and have offices beside one another.

I went to Pitt for law school. I worked in Harrisburg after my first year and was set to go back there to work after my second year. But, I missed being in the Sunbelt and had friends from Duke living in Atlanta. So, on my Spring Break, I picked up and drove down to Atlanta and called on law offices unannounced with resume in hand. I did not get an offer for that summer, but got very close with a top law firm which almost made an exception. They had me in for a full day of interviews. I got an offer full time after graduation, however. That was a big get on a drive which my father (who was from Atlanta orginally) called a whim.

I would do it, get in a car and drive down there. Thursday is a high of 55, Friday a high of 45, Saturday for the Spring game a high of 51. That is some nice Football weather :-)

I think mike thought Duke was a dead end.... He would just love the oppurtunity again to talk to coach. Call it an informal interview if you will. Hell i am half tempted to call the football office myself at this point. I have to believe coach is at least willing to talk..... He preaches fair and talks of chances of redemption and hard work.

What can i do.. or what do you think are options at this point... am i out of my head thinking i should call coach. Is mike out of his head going down to spring practice?
Mike has nothing to lose at this point.

Appreciate all you have tried to do and all you have tried to offer. I am indebted

Sure you are following developments with Duke Football. Cutcliffe still has open the WR coach at Duke. Perhaps Mike has made progress in his coaching position search. Hope Mike is making progress and that he is continuing to push ahead in his search.

No problem....I will float this to elanco (Eli Lilly) ceo. Who is a psu grad and a very strong supporter of yours. I will also float this to a few other companies as well as my own. Most manf jobs in animal health are base plus bonus and between the toe will get you 80k-150k. Distribution jobs are small base plus commission and or straight commission. Good distributor reps will make 100k -250k plus. Can be a rough first year but well worth it for the longterm

Great to hear from you, that's awesome! What was the position for? or what part of the company are you interested in? I can try and get you in touch with Jamie Bragg he's the VP of Team Sports, He played with Kevin Plank at MD around your time. Also, Ryan Kuehl, former Giant now works in Golf Marketing. Eric Mays is the manager for sports marketing out of the NYC office, he goes after signing pro players. We also have quite a few former PSU student-athletes that are in corporate that I could reach out to.

I'm on the retail side right now, doing ok, LOVE the company and product, but trying to get into wear-testing and product development.

Let me know if i can do anything or if you want to touch base...

Great to hear from you, that's awesome! What was the position for? or what part of the company are you interested in? I can try and get you in touch with Jamie Bragg he's the VP of Team Sports, He played with Kevin Plank at MD around your time. Also, Ryan Kuehl, former Giant now works in Golf Marketing. Eric Mays is the manager for sports marketing out of the NYC office, he goes after signing pro players. We also have quite a few former PSU student-athletes that are in corporate that I could reach out to.

I'm on the retail side right now, doing ok, LOVE the company and product, but trying to get into wear-testing and product development.

Let me know if I can do anything or if you want to touch base...

You could invite other friends too. To succeed with Advocare, it is ideal that you have people in mind to reach out to. Does NOT need to be local. We use webinars and 3 ways calls extensively. Our business is nationwide but since you are local I welcome opportunity to share Advocare with you, family and friends simultaneously. I am home working this weekend so I have some flexibility.

Mike,

Thanks for the information. Yes I know who you are and I am not into judging or getting into others personal business, but I would like to thank you for all the good years of great football coaching and service to a good program, and that's all I have to say about that. Now in regards to trying to find you a job and discussing your background and interests if you are still interested in trying just let me know what time frame works for you and we will talk about ideas in where I might be able to send your resume for an opportunity. I am not a headhunter I only work for my clients on projects helping them hire full-time employees or their companies. My background has been mostly in the defense and intelligence fields within the federal government, but I have connections out in the commercial industry as well and maybe we can locate something there. I realize this may take some work, but I enjoy what I do and if I cannot find opportunity in E&Y then there may be others. Let me know what your thoughts are.

Please except and forward this resume to coach Narduzzi.

I can be a great asset at PITT. With my recruiting experience and Northeast US and Pennsylvania ties it is a natural fit. Coaches like Render at USC, Mischler at Erie Prep and Schmidt at Neshaminy will all tell you I was a tireless and very good recruiter.

I can coach any skill position on Offense but feel most comfortable with WR's and QB's...I coached several players who went on to the NFL while at PSU.

I appreciate your time and your effort to see that Coach Narduzzi will get this resume and know of my interest in joining his staff.

Mike,

Thanks for the information. Yes I know who you are and I am not into judging or getting into others personal business, but I would like to thank you for all the good years of great football coaching and service to a good program, and that's all I have to say about that. Now in regards to trying to find you a job and discussing your background and interests if you are still interested in trying just let me know what time frame works for you and we will talk about ideas in where I might be able to send your resume for an opportunity. I am not a headhunter I only work for my clients on projects helping them hire full-time employees or their companies. My background has been mostly in the defense and intelligence fields within the federal government, but I have connections out in the commercial industry as well and maybe we can locate something there. I realize this may take some work, but I enjoy what I do and if I cannot find opportunity in E&Y then there may be others. Let me know what your thoughts are.

Keep in mind my resume's are coaching based, as that is my background. I feel I have extensive transferrable skills to many other job sector's and I am a relentless worker and extremely competitive.

Again, thank you for trying to help, I will jump at a chance to relocate, and start a new "real? career path.

Ashley works for a staffing company and they have clients who have numerous jibs that they are tasked to fill. I think mostly in HR/Recruiting. I think you would make a great recruiter in an corporate environment, so she may talk to you about recruiting. What did Chioma have to say or was she setting the appointment.

Subject: Resume for Assistant Coach
To: clasala@athletics.pitt.edu, bjunko@athletics.pitt.edu

Chris/Bob:

Please except and forward this resume to coach Narduzzi.

I can be a great asset at PITT. With my recruiting experience and Northeast US and Pennsylvania ties it is a natural fit. Coaches like Render at USC, Mischler at Erie Prep and Schmidt at Neshaminy will all tell you I was a tireless and very good recruiter.

I can coach any skill position on Offense but feel most comfortable with WR's and QB's...I coached several players who went on to the NFL while at PSU.

I appreciate your time and your effort to see that Coach Narduzzi will get this resume and know of my interest in joining his staff.

I emailed Ashley Wiegand today and she said she is working to help you locate a position, but things slowed down during the holidays. I would recommend if you aren't already doing so to stay in constant touch with her. Happy New Year!

Hi Danny,

I was reviewing your friend's resume over the holiday and thought of a couple of opportunities that might be a good fit for him. I know you wouldn't think it, but he would be great in financial sales and education. I was thinking online teaching. He has completed enough hours where he could begin to take over classes. The great thing about online teaching is that he could work for multiple universities with no conflict of interest. I have quite a few colleagues that teach online and make well over $100k per year.

The financial sales arena would be good for him too. Even though he has no background in it, he would excel. I can see that from his resume. The transition would not be difficult either.

The other that I think would be a great fit would be recruiting, like us. He could be a college recruiter where he recruits students who are graduating. It wouldn't be a stretch from his current position and he would still have interaction with students.

The most lucrative would be financial sales with online teaching a second contender. College recruiting might be a lower comp. All three would be along the lines of helping people which is what I see when I read his resume.

Hi Danny,

I was reviewing your friend's resume over the holiday and thought of a couple of opportunities that might be a good fit for him. I know you wouldn't think it, but he would be great in financial sales and education. I was thinking online teaching. He has completed enough hours where he could begin to take over classes. The great thing about online teaching is that he could work for multiple universities with no conflict of interest. I have quite a few colleagues that teach online and make well over $100k per year.

The financial sales arena would be good for him too. Even though he has no background in it, he would excel. I can see that from his resume. The transition would not be difficult either.

The other that I think would be a great fit would be recruiting, like us. He could be a college recruiter where he recruits students who are graduating. It wouldn't be a stretch from his current position and he would still have interaction with students.

The most lucrative would be financial sales with online teaching a second contender. College recruiting might be a lower comp. All three would be along the lines of helping people which is what I see when I read his resume.

If you could please forward to the Athletic Director and Coach Narduzzi it would be greatly appreciated.

Coach Narduzzi:

Please consider me for an assistant role on your staff. My experience and resume speaks for itself. My recruiting background in Pennsylvania and the Northeast will be a great asset to your staff.

I am sure you are familiar with me and my situation as well as my coaching and work at PSU.

Hey Mike,

Just wanted to reach out and let you know from someone who has gone through this that being a whistleblower is exhausting, isolating and there are times of craziness of what you say to people and how others remember it. I remember people being with me and then totally changing...it gets crazy. While I don't have the publicity you have, it was a two year heart wrenching battle for me...hence why I follow your story.....this whole thing broke in the middle of what I was going through. For me it worked out....the people who had to leave left and I was not forced out, but I knew I had to go. I "think" I did it right....but there was one thing I promised myself when I went down the road (or for you fell into) being a whistleblower.....things had to change and my conviction in the wrongdoings was so great that I could not turn back. Don't think about what you wish you did in 2001, but what you are doing going forward. Those senior guys have the best lawyers who will try and rip you apart for being a young guy walking into a locker room and maybe not recalling exactly what you saw. Stick to your story.....that is all that matters. You did the right thing in 2001 - they did not.

›r me after everything changed (they did not know I went to the press) I still knew I had to ·e and changed careers and two years in it has been amazing.

From what I gather there is still a lot more stuff you have to deal with but stick with your convictions. It's hard day in and day out, but stick with them. You did the right thing at the right time and no one else did. Don't ever doubt that or what you saw.

While our company is still deciding if they want Bus Dev position, no decision has been made and probably won't be until late summer or early fall.....if interested and moving up to NY and traveling a lot please let me know and I will keep you updated if position opens.

You should really think about getting into healthcare.....jobs are growing and while it might not be your dream job (nor mine) it is interesting and exciting. I promise you too that no one will "know" you or judge you in healthcare as they will in higher education or coaching. While I know that is where you would still like to work, making an income in more important and there is plenty of jobs in our field. More importantly we work with a number of vendors so again if interested I don't mind passing on your resume.

Wishing you the best. Again will keep you in mind for our position, but in the meantime if you are willing to move past the coaching or PA employment...a lot of jobs out there for you where no one "knows you name" or "judges you" but only wants you to see the company you are promoting..

Wishing you the best.

Hi Mike,

I hope you are doing well and finding a way to move on with your life. I am amazed how many lives can be affected by the acts of one man.

I will certainly keep you in mind if I hear about opportunities. The ones I come across most often are medical in nature and usually sales related. Would that interest you?

Mike-

Great to speak with you for a few minutes on Monday. The biggest hurdle we would find is that everyone will be looking for a "track record" of past business or sales achievement. I have submitted your name internally and checked the box next to "SMB Sales". This is our inside channel which resides in Ft. Myers, Florida. The key here is that the training is the best there is and can get you launched into a business career within the excitement of "technology". Other positions might be considered as well. Plus, as you received another email, you should expect a call from Dave Stilley who manages our Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey operation.

Let me know if I can help in any other way-

Dear Michael Koenig,

Thank you for taking the time to participate in the associate referral program and for submitting Michael Mcqueary. As a high-growth company, referrals are essential to our ability to attract top talent and meet our hiring goals.

As your referral progresses through the interview process, you will receive notification of their status. Please keep in mind that the interview process for some positions can be lengthy and thorough, so several weeks may pass before you receive a status update.

For more than a decade, I proved to be a successful Recruiter and Offensive Assistant Coach at Pennsylvania State University.

While I specialize in the passing game, including coaching quarterbacks and wide receivers, I have the knowledge and skill to coach any offensive position.

While my tenure at PSU ended in 2011, I've spent my time developing NFL prospects off the field with Brett Senior's Senior Sports Management Group, including Ross Travis, a free-agent signed with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Coach Cubit:

Please accept my resume for a position on your staff at Illinois.

For more than a decade, I proved to be a successful Recruiter and Offensive Assistant Coach at Pennsylvania State University.

While I specialize in the passing game, including coaching quarterbacks and wide receivers, I have the knowledge and skill to coach any offensive position.

Additionally, my time at PSU gave me to the opportunity to develop a reputation that is highly respected throughout college football - one that will no doubt prove to be invaluable with recruitment efforts, especially within Pennsylvania.

While my tenure at PSU ended in 2011, I've spent my time developing NFL prospects off the field with Brett Senior's Senior Sports Management Group, including Ross Travis, a free-agent signed with the Kansas City Chiefs.

I'm hungry to get back on the field and know my experience will serve to strengthen the program at Illinois.

Coach McQueary,

As of now Coach Cutcliffe is not working to fill a position on our staff but is focusing on preparations for our bowl game later this month.

When he does begin to focus on staff transitions, we will post any available job on the Duke University HR portal and would recommend that if you interested at that point, you apply through that website.

Thanks for the interest. Best,

Fwd: Position on Staff

To: jgs023@bucknell.edu

Coach Susan,

Please accept my resume for a position on your staff at Bucknell.

For more than a decade, I proved to be a successful Recruiter and Offensive Assistant Coach at Pennsylvania State University.

While I specialize in the passing game, including coaching quarterbacks and wide receivers, I have the knowledge and skill to coach any offensive position.

Additionally, my time at PSU gave me to the opportunity to develop a reputation that is highly respected throughout college football - one that will no doubt prove to be invaluable with recruitment efforts, especially within Pennsylvania and Northeast.

While my tenure at PSU ended in 2011, I've spent my time developing NFL prospects off the field with Brett Senior's Senior Sports Management Group, including Ross Travis, a free-agent signed with the Kansas City Chiefs.

I'm hungry to get back on the field and know my experience will serve to strengthen the program at Bucknell.

Thanks coach.

While I specialize in the passing game, including coaching quarterbacks and wide receivers, I have the knowledge and skill to coach any offensive position.

Additionally, my time at PSU gave me to the opportunity to develop a reputation that is highly respected throughout college football - one that will no doubt prove to be invaluable with recruitment efforts, especially within Pennsylvania and the Northeast.

While my tenure at PSU ended in 2011, I've spent my time developing NFL prospects off the field with Brett Senior's Senior Sports Management Group, including Ross Travis, a free-agent signed with the Kansas City Chiefs.

I'm hungry to get back on the field and know my experience will serve to strengthen the program at Mass.

Sincerely,

Mike McQueary

Mickey:

It was great to run into you the other day. I appreciated the time you spent with me....and your kind words.

Again, if you talk with anyone, I would be willing to do just about anything....I just need a chance to get back into it...I did the right thing here at PSU, its not fair what has happened.

Hit them straight and good luck this upcoming season.

Hi Tom:

First, thank you for reaching out, I appreciate it greatly.

I would be extremely interested in any ideas you might have. I will go into a few things for you for background.

I have been out of work since Nov. of 2011...obviously I am in a desperate situation.
The Sandusky issue here is extremely toxic, I did the right thing and was extremely honest about everything involved.
I have a large lawsuit currently against the university.

I have tried hard to find employment, both in and out of football. I would like to move out of State College, hopefully the DC area due to the fact that my daughter lives in Arlington (shirlington village).

All of my background is in coaching...I was also the recruiting coordinator here and that is basically sales and branding/marketing. I feel I have a ton of transferrable skills and I will work like a dog to learn and be successful.

Again, thanks for reaching out...Look forward to hearing and ideas.

Mike

Coach:

Please accept my resume for a position on your staff at Mount Ida.

For more than a decade, I proved to be a successful Recruiter and Offensive Assistant Coach at Pennsylvania State University.

While I specialize in the passing game, including coaching quarterbacks and wide receivers, I have the knowledge and skill to coach any offensive position.

Additionally, my time at PSU gave me the opportunity to develop a reputation that is highly respected throughout college football - one that will no doubt prove to be invaluable with recruitment efforts, especially within Pennsylvania and the Northeast.

While my tenure at PSU ended in 2011, I've spent my time developing NFL prospects off the field with Brett Senior's Senior Sports Management Group, including Ross Travis, a free-agent signed with the Kansas City Chiefs.

I'm hungry to get back on the field and know my experience will serve to strengthen the program at Mount Ida.

Sincerely,

Mike McQueary
